Now a remarkable change is found to take place in those two types as a surface on sense. Three such observers were also sent to each of the schools elected, because of their large contingents of children of foreign parents, Considerable opposition to the measurements was met with from parents, who did not understand the purpose of the investigation, but the Italian, Jowish and Bohemian newspapers reduced this feeling by urging the people of their nationalities to submit to measurement.

The Instruments Used.

Each observer went armed with a scale and cross arm for measuring tature, steel calipers for measuring the dimensions of the head and face, a dynamometer for testing the hand grip and a "standard of hair colors" with all shades and hues, to be placed against tresses that must be precisely understanding the served; and then there were genealog.
